one of a series which served to make the semi-annual meeting of the Presbytery important. Dr. I. S. Ramsay offered his resignation as paster of the Harlem Church, as it was intimated in The to be taken under the care of the Preshytery. All Tribune last week that he might do. Echoes of the Briggs case were heard again with all the sadness to-day for licensure. They were John A. Machaof former years. Complaints were taken to the tosh, Frank W. Kirwan and George Stoner. examine students for licensure.

The meeting yesterday was held in the Old First Church, at Fifth-ave, and Eleventh-st. After half an hour of devotional service the election of oilicers resulted in the choice of the Rev. Dr. Jesse, F. Forbes, of the Adams Memorial Church, for Moderator. The clerks, Drs. Birch, Hoadley and Lampe, continue respectively as stated, permanent and temporary clerks. Dr. Forbes appointed as Vice-Moderator Dr. George Alexander, of the University Place Church, and as his advisery council, Drs. W. D. Buchanan and Henry T. McEwen, and George R. Lockwood and Colonel A. P. Ketchum. When the question of naming candidates for the General Assembly was before the Presbytery, the name of Dr. Parkhurst was presented. Dr. Parkburst rose and declined the nomination, on the plea of press of duties. He was allowed to withdraw his name, and in a little while left the room. THE CHARGE AGAINST DR. PARKHURST.

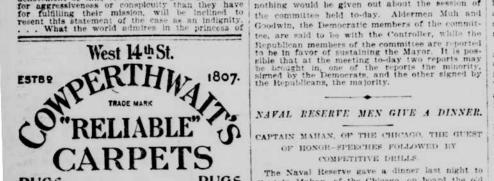

According to a rule of the Presbytery, every minister on its rolls must report in April what he has done during the year and in what he is engaged. As there are more than 170 ministers in the Pres-bytery, the reports usually consist of a few words, When the name of Peter Z. Easton was called yesterday, Mr. Easton, who has been a missionary minister he said in conversation:

Dr. Parkhurst was not present when his "dan-gerous" theological tendencies were under fire, but when informed of the new charge made by a brother minister he said in conversation:

So he called me a Pantheist, did he? What will be charged against me next? I suspect that they will call me the devil yet. I am neither a Pantheist nor am I addicted to Pantheism. As a matter of fact, the article referred to was not in any sense theological, and nothing in it could be construed to make me say that the Lord Jesus Christowes everything to the Virgin Mary and nothing to the Holy Ghost. I do not know who Mr. Easton is nor what his motive is in coming here from Washington apparently for the purpose of placing an erroneous interpretation on the article which I contributed to the journal in question.

"I expect that they will call me the devil next." said Dr. C. H. Parkhurst, yesterday, when informed that he had been charged in the Presbytery of New-York with being a Pantheist. The incident in which the startling accusation was made was only one of a series which served to make the semi-annual meeting of the Presbytery invasion.

followed, in which President Thomas S. Hastings said in substance:

We feel keenly the great injustice of this action. There are eight instructors in Union Seminary, one of whom has been suspended from the ministry, one the President to keep instructors who are in good and regular standing? Is it the disposition of the President to know, and for one I think I have a right to know. Reference has been made to the language used by the General Assembly in disavowing responsibility for the teaching in the reference. The General Assembly, If this were the reference. The General Assembly has never disapproved Union Seminary. No such language has been used by the Assembly, If this were the time, and if it were proper to do so now, I could show the ground of the action which resulted in our seminary. There is in it an element of discredit to the General Assembly which I should be ashamed to expound. But if the question is pressed, the facts must come out.

Dr. Booth, Dr. Birch and Dr. Sutton supported Mr. Nightingale, while Dr. Chapin championed the cause of the young men. Dr. Hall wanted to have the cause referred to the General Assembly, but the Presbytery decided to examine the candidates, and later declared that the examination was satisfactory. Drs. Sutton, Booth and Birch gave notice that they would complain to the Synod of this action.

Dr. Ramsay read a brief letter containing his

when the church will have an opportunity to join the paster in his request or to oppose his wishes in the matter. There was no discussion yesterday over the merits of the question, but the sympathy of his fellow-members was clearly indicated as br. Ramsay left the room. He has been a loyal friend of every member, and if is not likely that he will be allowed to leave his pulpit, if the wishes of the Presbytery are considered. The church may send representatives, however, who will cause an adverse decision. The resignation is now in the hands of

The Naval Reserve gave a dinner last night to Captain Mahan, of the Chicago, on board the old line-of-battle-ship New-Hampshire, moored at Twenty-eighth-st, and the East River. The wind and rain blew and beat over the ancient vessel and made her strain at her moorings, but under the roof which covers her spar deck all was light and warmth. There were about thirty people who sat down to the dinner in the wardroom, at which Cap-tain Miller presided. All the officers of the First Battalion Naval Milltia, N. G. S. N. Y., were present and many invited guests. Among those present besides the guest of the evening, Captain Mahan, and the presiding officer, Captain Miller, were Colonel H. L. Satterlee, of the Governor's staff; Colonel Church, Captain Spicer, of the Marine Corps; Lieutenant Delahanty, Lieutenant-Commander W. L. Field, Lieutenant Nazro, W. T. Lawson, H. K. Zerega, W. J. Henderson, F. W. Meekin and E. W. Brown, After the dinner the health of Captain Mahan was proposed by Captain Miller. Captain Mahan replied in a speech, in which he said that the Naval Reserve was important in any country and especially so in the United States, where the policy was to keep up a small standing army and a small naval establishment. After the dinner the regular spring competitive drills took place on the spar deck, and many people gathered there to see them. There were fencing and other exhibitions of skill, which were well done and highly applauded. Dr. Hammond and W. T. Lawson, of the New-York Athletic Club, and H. K. Depen is the most conspicuous product of the dectrine "Do evil that good may come of it" that this country has ever seen. He first attracted attention many years ago as a lobbyist at Albany. A trail of slime and carrention was stretched across the State from New-York City by way of Albany and Buffalo, and from there it spread over the whole country, corrupting public officers, poliuting legislative halls and even filling courts of justice with its olders. This was the beginning of that flood of corruption which is to-day washing the foundations from under our whole governmental fabric. fabric.

TEMPORARILY CONFINED IN BELLEVUE HOS.

This happened at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, just after she had carefully arranged the pillows for her suffering sister. Mary had been more than usually had worked over her all the morning. Harrie setzed a bottle containing carbolic acid in her sis ter's bedroom, poured some into a tumbler, and with the burning fluid, when the sick woman leaped from the bed and dashed the tumbler from Harriet's hand. Harriet, with a shriek, dashed out of the bedroom to the front room. She made straight for a window, and had partially raised the sash when some neighbors who were in the room interfered. The crazed woman fought frantically, but was forced to lie down.

At this moment Mary appeared in the room in her night dress, and made a rush for the same window Harriet had tried to jump from a few minutes before. Mary, too, was selzed before she could jump and carried back to hed.

Old Mr. McArdie, now sane, but feeble, had gone to church, and Mrs. McArdle was lying helpless in a rear bedroom. The neighbors decided it would be unsafe to leave the two insane women alone, so they remained and watched them. Several times during the day the sisters made efforts to get at the windows, but were restrained.

The McArdie family are in comfortable circumstances and the stay of the sisters in Bellevue will be only temporary. If they show no signs of improvement they will be removed to a private asylum.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., N. T. had been revoked, and that the concern had no more right to keep its wagons standing in the streets than other men had.

Michael Epstein, truck driver, of No. 29 East Broadway, was locked up all day yesterday in the Elizabeth-st. station on the charge of stealing his own truck. The Street Cleaning Department confiscated it, and made the charge of robbery against Epstein because he attached his horse to the truck and drove away. Epstein alleges that he did not know his truck was confiscated.

Mark Alter says he will bring suit against Colonel Waring, Commissioner of Street Cleaning, for false imprisonment.
